Since early in 1990, a workgroup composed of State program staff, local district representatives and representatives of legal advocacy organizations has been meeting to develop uniform reason paragraphs, simplified budget narratives and standard formats for the automated client notices to be produced by the WMS Client Notices System. Piloting of this System in districts is scheduled to begin in mid-1992.

Plans call for all PA, MA and FS client notices to be produced and printed through WMS and mailed centrally. To provide uniformity, the terms and names being used in the automated notices are those used by this Department to describe types of benefits, rules, procedures and processes and to name social services programs.

Members of the Automated Notices Language Workgroup have expressed concern that clients may be confused by the new notices because some districts use "local equivalent" or alternative terms and names. The Attachment lists examples of "double names" which may confuse clients. Please note that these are only examples of "double names" of which we are aware. Originating Administrative Directives should be consulted if districts are not certain if a specific term or name is a "local equivalent".

In order to guarantee that the centrally-mailed client notices convey, as clearly as possible, the information needed to be communicated to clients, uniform terms and names must be adopted by all local districts. Over the next year, therefore, districts are encouraged to change all "local equivalent" terms to State terms, particularly in written material, in anticipation of the implementation of the WMS Client Notices System.
