Transmittal No: 95 LCM-98

Date: August 24, 1995

Term Care

TO: Local District Commissioners

SUBJECT: Personal Emergency Response Services (PERS) Standards:
Proposed Administrative Directive

ATTACHMENTS: Proposed ADM, Personal Emergency Response Services
(PERS) Standards (Available on-line)

Section 86-b of Chapter 81 of the Laws of 1995 directs the Department to develop standards for use by the social services districts in providing Personal Emergency Response Services (PERS) services in the personal care services program. The standards, contained in the attached proposed ADM, were developed in consultation with an advisory group which included representatives from social services districts, providers, labor organizations and client advocacy groups. Districts must use these standards until an administrative directive is released by the Department later this year. The current directive, 91 ADM-42, will be cancelled at that time.

The Department will continue to discuss the standards for PERS with the advisory group and will issue revised standards, as necessary, based upon the recommendations of the advisory group, consistent with Chapter 81.

These standards establish guidelines, including criteria to be considered by districts, for determining the appropriateness of PERS for clients in receipt of, or authorized for, personal care services or home health services. They establish the guidelines to be considered in making decisions on the use of the PERS in districts and in making decisions concerning the appropriateness of such a model for the clients served in a district. These standards should not be construed as strict rules, nor rigidly enforced without regard to the facts and circumstances of the district's implementation of its PERS program, and of the individual client being considered for PERS. As such, these standards should not be employed to determine strictly the districts' conduct of their PERS programs, nor to determine strictly if or when PERS is appropriate for a client; rather, they merely require that certain considerations be taken into account by the districts in making determinations concerning the implementation of a PERS program and in the determination of a client's appropriateness for PERS. Thus, these standards are not intended to dictate the results of the district's action in establishing a PERS program or in authorizing for a client.

Districts with comments, questions or suggestions concerning these standards should contact Donald Dwyer at (800) 343-8859, extension 3-5616 or direct at (518) 473-5616 or 89A807. Questions concerning this transmittal should be directed to Richard D. Alexander at (800) 343-8859, extension 3-5506 or direct at (518) 473-5506 or DMA037.

I. PURPOSE

This Administrative Directive sets forth standards for the provision of Personal Emergency Response Services (PERS) as required by Social Services Law (SSL) Section 367-g, which was recently amended by Section 86-b of Chapter 81 of the Laws of 1995.

II. BACKGROUND

Use of PERS has proven to be an efficient and cost-effective method for provision of personal care services. Section 367-k (2)(a)(ii) of the SSL requires that social services districts assess all clients to determine whether the functional needs and living and working arrangements of clients receiving personal care services solely for the purpose of monitoring such clients can be appropriately and more cost-effectively monitored through the provision of PERS available in the district.

III. PROGRAM IMPLICATIONS

Department regulations require social services districts to provide a more cost-effective means of delivering home care services to qualified MA clients. By authorizing PERS, the social services district is able to reduce or substitute the number of hours authorized for home care workers who are in a client's home solely for the purpose of monitoring the client's health and safety. Home care services expenditures should be reduced at both the local and State levels.

IV. REQUIRED ACTION

Social services districts must utilize the PERS program for clients eligible to receive personal care or home health services where appropriate and cost effective. Districts must also provide information to educate clients about PERS.

A. Definitions and Scope

1. Description of PERS

PERS means provision and maintenance of electronic communication equipment in the home of a client which signals a monitoring agency for help when activated by the client or after a period of time if a timer mechanism has not been reset. PERS also includes the continuous monitoring of such signals by a trained operator and, in case of receipt of such signals, the immediate notification of the emergency response organizations or persons, if necessary, as the client has previously specified.

The purpose of PERS is to provide support to a client, whose medical condition is stable, with a mechanism for summoning help should an emergency occur. The PERS substitutes for some hours of service, authorized solely for the purpose of monitoring the client's health and safety, which would in the past have been routinely provided by a personal care/home health aide.

2. Description of the Components of PERS

PERS provides the home care client with an electronic communications link with a monitoring agency which can arrange for the appropriate assistance when an emergency signal is received. Technological enhancements have been developed to enhance and extend PERS services to clients who cannot communicate in English or are verbally or physically challenged. Such enhancements include, but are not limited to products or services such as on-line translation services or breath activated transmitters.

The following are key features shared by all PERS.

(a) PERS Provider

A PERS provider may be a certified home health agency, a long term home health care program, an area agency on aging, a police department, a fire department, ambulance service, a hospital, or any other entity that is capable of providing PERS either directly or through subcontracts. A PERS provider may also be a monitoring agency, as defined in (d), below.

(b) Emergency Response Activator

An emergency response activator is a small, electronic device that the PERS client presses or otherwise activates to send a signal for help to the monitoring agency. The activator can be hand held, worn as a neck pendant, as a wristband or may be breath activated.

(c) Emergency Response Communicator

An emergency response communicator is an electronic unit connected to the client's telephone line. The communicator can accept the signal from the activator and also has a button to generate a signal. The communicator then sends this signal over telephone lines to the monitoring agency.

(d) Monitoring Agency

The monitoring agency is an agency that is capable of receiving signals for help from a client's PERS equipment 24 hours a day, seven days per week; determining whether an emergency exists; and notifying an emergency response organization or an emergency responder that the PERS client needs emergency help.

(i) Provider-based monitoring agencies are usually located in hospitals and have staff who are trained to respond to the emergency signal by referencing pertinent client information, calling the client or responder to determine if an emergency exists and summoning assistance.

(ii) Manufacturer-based monitoring agencies have trained staff on a 24 hour, seven day per week basis at the national or regional monitoring agency offices. Systems with voice-to-voice communication will directly communicate with the client to determine the nature of the emergency and then summon assistance.

(e) Emergency Responder

An emergency responder is a PERS client's neighbor, family member or other person dispatched through an emergency response organization who at the client's request has agreed to respond to a signal for help when notified by a monitoring agency. The emergency responder must be able to communicate with the monitoring agency, either by speaking basic English or through the use of an on-line translation service, such as the AT&T Language Line. The emergency responder must also live or be based sufficiently near the client so that he or she can quickly "check on" the client to determine whether an emergency actually exists and communicate necessary information to the monitoring agency.

To ensure adequate coverage of an emergency signal, the client must list with the social services district the name, address and telephone number of one person who has agreed to serve as an emergency responder. If possible, the client should also list this information for an additional emergency responder.

(f) Emergency Response Organization

An emergency response organization is a police or fire department, an ambulance service, a hospital or other entity that the client has designated to respond to signals for help when notified by the monitoring agency or emergency responder.

B. Provision of PERS by the Social Services District

The process and procedures for the authorization of Personal Emergency Response Services (PERS) are completed in accordance with, and in coordination with, the authorization procedures for home care services. Authorization for PERS services are to be based on a physician's order and a comprehensive assessment of the client's needs.

1. Physician's Orders

When the social services district receives a completed physician's order indicating a request for home care services, the physician's order can serve as the initial basis for ascertaining whether the client might be appropriate to receive PERS. PERS might be appropriate for a client who has been identified in the physician's order as needing traditional personal care/home health services and who requires safety monitoring by a home care worker.

2. PERS Comprehensive Assessment and Client Eligibility Requirements

(a) PERS Comprehensive Assessment

The social services district or its designee must perform a comprehensive assessment of the client. The social services district, or its designee, must obtain the necessary information or utilize the nursing and social assessments completed for the authorization of home care services to evaluate the client's physical disability status, the degree that he/she would be at risk of an emergency due to his/her medical or functional impairments or disability, and the degree of the client's social isolation.

(b) Client Eligibility

Potential PERS clients can be characterized as being medically stable and either chronically-ill, functionally impaired, disabled, living alone or alone for long periods of time and/or at risk of a medical emergency such as fainting or falling down.

Examples of medical or functional impairments which might indicate a client's appropriateness for PERS are: severe crippling arthritis, osteoporosis, renal dialysis, severe heart conditions complicated by angina, dyspnea or sudden heart failures, or being quadriplegic. The comprehensive assessment must also take into consideration the degree of social isolation experienced by the client. A client may experience social isolation by living in an inaccessible rural environment during the winter season or by living in a high-rise apartment building with no daily contact with others.

The district should authorize PERS only when the comprehensive assessment indicates that the service would be appropriate because the client meets all of the following conditions:

- (i) The client has a medical condition, disability or impairment that warrants use of PERS. Clients may be characterized by a variety of disabilities such as cardio-vascular, musculo-skeletal conditions, neurological, metabolic, visual, auditory or pulmonary impairment.
- (ii) The client's safety in the home must be monitored. The assessment process must have determined that the client is either severely functionally impaired, at a high risk of medical vulnerability, or completely socially isolated.
- (iii) The client has insufficient informal caretakers. Many clients lack informal supports, such as family members and friends, that are directly and continuously available to monitor his/her health and safety.

- (iv) PERS would reduce or substitute for the number of hours of personal care services or home health aide services that the client would otherwise need solely for the purpose of monitoring the client's health and safety.
- (v) The client is alert and self-directing. Alert and self-directing means that he/she is capable of making choices about the activities of daily living, understanding the impact of these choices and assuming the responsibility for the results of these choices.
- (vi) The client would be able to use PERS equipment effectively. Consequently, PERS would be unsuitable for persons who cannot comprehend the equipment's use or activate the PERS in any way, either with or without technology enhancements, to summon emergency assistance.
- (vii) The client can communicate, either directly or through technology enhancements, his or her need for help to the monitoring agency. Communication can be verbal or non-verbal and can be facilitated through the use of technology enhancements. For example, a client who does not speak English can still be eligible for PERS if a technology enhancement such as AT&T's Language Line, or a similar on-line translation service, is available to the client. Such a service enables monitoring agency staff to communicate with the client in his or her language.

A client who cannot speak or communicate in any language can still be eligible for PERS if another type of technology enhancement is available to the client that would enable him or her to communicate with the monitoring agency in an effective but nonverbal manner. For example, the client may be able to use a breath-activated emergency response activator that is activated by touch or by some other means but that does not require the client to speak.
- (viii) The client has a functioning telephone with a private line, on or before the day the PERS equipment is installed into the person's home.

3. PERS Authorization

All PERS must be authorized by the social services district. The district reviews the PERS request and the supporting documents. If the district has any questions regarding the documentation, the physician ordering the service or the agency performing the nursing assessment should provide any additional information needed. The district reserves the right to independently assess the client to assure the need for service. If the district disagrees with the recommendation of the ordering physician or the assessing agency, the local professional director should be consulted. A PERS authorization may not exceed twelve months and must be completed prior to the initiation of services. When the district authorizes PERS, it must incorporate the provision of PERS into the plan of care and must reflect either a reduction or substitution of the personal care services or home health hours that the client would have otherwise received solely for monitoring the client's health and safety.

4. Reassessment/Reauthorization

(a) Reassessment

When an unexpected change in the client's physical circumstances, mental status or medical condition occurs which might affect the client's use or understanding of PERS, the district must be responsible for completing, on a timely basis, a new comprehensive assessment and making the necessary changes in the authorization. If this new comprehensive assessment indicates that PERS should be discontinued, the district must ensure that the appropriate level of services is provided to the client.

(b) Reauthorization

After the initial authorization, PERS must be reauthorized every twelve months if the service is to continue. The reauthorization must include the total reassessment of the client's physical disability status, the degree to which a client is at risk of an emergency due to a medical or functional impairment or disability, and the degree of the client's social isolation. Additional considerations or questions that must be addressed in the process are:

- (i) Does the client continue to have a medical condition, disability, or impairment that warrants use of PERS?
- (ii) Does PERS continue to reduce or substitute for the number of personal care services or home health aide services hours the client would otherwise need solely for the purpose of monitoring the client's health and safety?
- (iii) Does the client still need safety monitoring in his/her home?
- (iv) Does the client still have insufficient informal caregivers available to monitor his/her health and safety?
- (v) Is the client still alert and self-directing?
- (vi) Is the client's private telephone line still functional?

- (vii) Is the client still able to use the PERS equipment effectively or has the client been abusing the equipment or misusing the PERS service by not wearing the emergency response activator or by continually activating the system when no emergency exists?

A reauthorization of PERS must follow the procedures set forth in paragraphs 2 through 5 of this subdivision. No single reauthorization for PERS may exceed 12 months.

5. Written Notification Requirements

The district must notify the client in writing, on forms required by the Department, of its decision to authorize, deny, reauthorize, or discontinue PERS. The notices must meet the notice requirements found in Part 358 of the Department's regulations. A client whose service is going to be discontinued is entitled to a fair hearing and aid continuing in accordance with the requirements of Part 358. A model notice form has been developed and is included in Appendix E of this Directive.

6. Initiation by the Social Services District of the Provision Of PERS

Once it has been determined that a client is appropriate for PERS, and the authorization and the comprehensive assessment are completed, the social services district has the primary responsibility to ensure that the installation of PERS services is completed. To fulfill these responsibilities, the district should perform the following functions:

- (a) The district must ensure that the client has designated in writing the name, telephone number and address of the emergency response organization; one emergency responder or, if possible, two emergency responders; a representative who may be the same person as an emergency responder; the client's physician; and the client's choice of preferred hospital. This information should be obtained from the client's assessment forms and be recorded into the client's data record. The district should verify that the emergency response organization selected by the client is aware of its designation and is willing and able to assume that responsibility. The district must also obtain the client's written authorization for the emergency response organization and emergency responder to enter his/her home and to provide emergency treatment and transportation.

A social services district may delegate the responsibilities described in paragraph 6 (a) to a PERS provider that has agreed to perform these responsibilities on the district's behalf.

- (b) The district must contact the provider on the day of PERS authorization and inform the provider of the name, address and telephone number of the client. During the conversation, the district must also inform the provider that it must contact the client or the client's representative that same day to arrange a mutually convenient time for the provider to install the PERS equipment into the client's telephone line, and that the provider must install the PERS equipment within five business days after the day the provider receives the written PERS authorization from the district and that, if the provider cannot install the equipment within this five day period, it must immediately notify the district. Also on the day the district authorizes PERS, it must forward to the provider a copy of the PERS authorization, along with the information contained in the client's data record. If the client's physical circumstances, medical condition or mental status changes during the authorization period, the district will be responsible for forwarding in writing these changes so that the provider may update the client's data record.
- (c) The district must have a plan for providing information to educate clients about the Personal Emergency Response Services (PERS). This plan must include information on how clients can express their concerns about the PERS services. Districts should be aware that a variety of written materials and brochures already exist and are available from the PERS providers. PERS providers also provide clients with a demonstration on the use and operation of the PERS systems as the time of installation. Part of the client education includes receiving a brochure which gives the name and telephone number of a contact person in case of problems or concerns with the PERS units.

7. Social Services District Monitoring Requirements

The social services district has responsibility for monitoring the provider's provision of PERS equipment and services. Monitoring and follow-up activities should include:

- (a) Monitoring the timeliness of the provider's installation, maintenance and removal of PERS equipment;
- (b) Monitoring the timeliness and efficiency of the monitoring agency's responses to emergency signals from the client;
- (c) Monitoring all complaints by PERS clients regarding the PERS provider which should include ascertaining the client's satisfaction with, and the reliability of, the PERS equipment;
- (d) Monitoring the timeliness of the provider's reports of emergencies, which should include collecting data and documentation of the provider's reports on emergencies and non-emergency signals.

Social services districts have flexibility to determine the methods which will be utilized to monitor the provider's compliance with PERS equipment and services requirements. Monitoring methods utilized may be influenced by such factors as district staffing considerations or by the number of provider agencies who have contractual arrangements with the district.

Methods of monitoring may include, but are not limited to, the district's on-site reviews of a provider agency's required record-keeping documentation; establishment of a formal weekly or monthly reporting system between the district and a provider(s); or establishment of monthly district/provider meetings in which the providers' required record-keeping activities are reviewed by the district. Methods utilized must be adequate to assure that all monitoring objectives above are met.

8. Discontinuance of PERS Authorization

If the social services district determines that PERS are no longer appropriate for a client, a written notice of the district's intent to discontinue PERS must be sent to the client. The district must send a notice of its intent to discontinue a client's PERS authorization when a client is continuously hospitalized for more than sixty days or when the client's physical circumstances, mental status or social condition has changed significantly so that PERS are no longer appropriate.

A PERS client has the right to request a fair hearing to appeal the district's proposed discontinuance of PERS. The client may also have a right to aid continuing. Consequently, the district's proposed discontinuance of the client's PERS authorization must comply with the notice, aid continuing and fair hearing requirements set forth in Section 505.33 (c)(8) and Part 358 of the Department's regulations.

On the day that the district discontinues PERS, the district must notify the provider by telephone of the termination of the client's PERS authorization. During this telephone conversation, the district must also tell the provider that it must telephone the client or the client's representative that same day to arrange a mutually convenient time for the PERS equipment's removal and that the provider must remove the PERS equipment within seven business days after the day the provider receives the district's written notification to remove the equipment. Also on the day the district discontinues PERS, it must forward to the provider a written notification verifying the order to remove the client's PERS.

When the client's PERS authorization is terminated, the social services district must ensure, when applicable, that the appropriate level of care is provided to the client.

9. PERS used in Combination with a Shared Aide Plan

Shared aide means a method of providing personal care services under which a social services district authorizes one or more nutritional and environmental support functions, personal care functions, or health-related tasks for each personal care services client who resides with other personal care services clients in a designated geographic area, such as in the same apartment building, and a personal care services provider completes the authorized functions or health-related tasks by making short visits to each such client. PERS can be combined with the provision of shared aide services to further improve efficiency and cost-effectiveness in delivering personal care services.

10. Provision of PERS to Clients Receiving Home Health Services

PERS may be authorized for clients of home health aide services delivered by a certified home health agency when the provision of PERS is incorporated into the plan of care and would reflect either a decrease or substitution of home health aide services. To determine whether PERS are appropriate for a client of home health services, the home health services client must meet the criteria found in Section (B)(2)(b), Client Eligibility, on pages 8-9 of this Directive.

All PERS must be authorized by the social services district. The social services district should establish a process for authorizing PERS with input from the certified home health agency(ies). The following steps in the process are required:

(a) Obtain physician's order and comprehensive assessment

A physician's order and a comprehensive assessment are required for the authorization of PERS. The social services district may delegate the responsibility for obtaining a physician's order and completing a comprehensive assessment to the certified home health agency, since it is intended that the determination of the need for PERS will be coordinated with the process for determining the need for home care services. If the provision of PERS would reduce or substitute for the need for home care services and the client meets the other conditions for eligibility, the certified home health agency may certify to the social services district that the client is appropriate to receive PERS. Documentation to support the certification, as specified by the social services district, must be included.

(b) Complete authorization for PERS

The social services district should authorize PERS in accordance with B.3, PERS Authorization, on page 9 of this Directive.

(c) Reauthorize service

A similar process for the reassessment of the need for PERS should be followed as outlined on pages 10-11, Section 4.B, of this Directive. The comprehensive assessment for the reauthorization should include the following considerations or questions:

- (i) Does the client continue to have a medical condition, disability, or impairment that warrants use of PERS?
- (ii) Does PERS continue to reduce or substitute for the number of personal care services or home health aide services the client would need solely for the purpose of health and safety monitoring?
- (iii) Does the client still need safety monitoring in his/her home?
- (iv) Does the client still have insufficient informal caregivers available to monitor his/her health and safety?
- (v) Is the client still alert and self-directing?
- (vi) Is the client's private telephone line still functional?
- (vii) Is the client still able to use the PERS equipment effectively or has the client been abusing the equipment or misusing the PERS service by not wearing the emergency response activator or by continually activating the system when no emergency exists?

Information obtained by the district from the PERS provider regarding any inappropriate use of the equipment or the service should be shared with the certified home health agency for consideration in the reassessment. Based on the information from the certified home health agency, the social services district may reauthorize the service.

(d) Monitoring

The social services district should seek input from the certified home health agency(ies) when monitoring the delivery of PERS as outlined in B.7, Social Services District's Monitoring Requirements, on pages 12-13 of this Directive.

C. Rates and Contracting for PERS

1. Contracting

PERS are provided through contracts with PERS providers. The social services district must contract with a sufficient number of providers to supply PERS for authorized clients. Prior to selecting a PERS provider(s), the district should determine, from their personal care/home health services caseloads, the number of clients they believe will be eligible for PERS. This potential PERS caseload will determine the number of PERS provider(s) with which the district will need to contract.

Before selection of a PERS provider(s), the social services district should consider the following:

- (a) A demonstration by the potential provider(s) that they have the capacity and ability to provide services utilizing PERS equipment which meets all the standards outlined in Appendix A, to the district's authorized PERS clients; and,
- (b) A demonstration by the potential provider(s) of their products, including activation of the emergency signal, and response to this signal by the monitoring agency.

When the social services district selects a provider(s), a contract which defines the responsibilities of each party must be negotiated. A model contract has been developed by the Department for this purpose and is included in Appendix B. This contract will require, among other things, that the PERS provider maintains appropriate insurance coverage to protect the social services district from liability claims resulting from personal injuries to clients or persons who install, maintain or remove PERS equipment. Any local variations to the model contract must be included in the model contract's Appendix B-3. For example, local variations may include language that supports the methods selected by the district for monitoring the provider's provision of PERS equipment and services. Both the contract and rates, including any local variations, must be approved by the State Department of Social Services before PERS are implemented. Steps for Provider Selection and Contracting Process for PERS located in Appendix D of this directive, should be consulted for further explanation of the steps involved in the contract and approval process.

2. Reimbursement for PERS

Reimbursement for PERS will consist of two rates which have been negotiated by the social services district. These rates must not exceed the local prevailing rate or the rate caps established by the Department. The rate cap for PERS installation is $50.00, and the PERS monthly service charge cap is $31.00. The social services district must submit all negotiated rates to the Department for approval. The PERS model contract located in Appendix B of this Directive contains in its Appendix B, a copy of the PERS Rate Form which should be used for this purpose.

The two rates which the district is responsible for negotiating are:

Rate Description	Rate Code
PERS Installation	2513
PERS Monthly Service Charge	2514

Negotiated rates must include the costs for renting or leasing of PERS equipment, the installation, maintenance, and the removal of the PERS equipment from the client's home. A second rate must be negotiated for the monthly service charge for monitoring agency services.

Districts are strongly encouraged to negotiate PERS rates below the maximum PERS rate caps, since these caps will not necessarily be adjusted annually. When applicable, social services districts should explore the possibility of obtaining volume discounts from PER providers.

Payments for PERS will be made only when a provider's claim is supported and verified by documentation required by Section 540.7(a)(8) of the Department's regulations. All payments for PERS services will end on the day the district sends the provider a written notification to discontinue service and remove the PERS equipment from the client's home.

Expenditures for PERS are a part of home care services and are eligible for long term care overburden funding. Therefore, the share for reimbursement for federal participating clients is 50% federal, 40.6% state and 9.4% local. Expenditures for administrative costs should be claimed on schedule D-4 in accordance with instructions found in Bulletin 143b.

D. Responsibilities of the PERS Providers

The PERS provider has the primary responsibility to furnish, install, maintain, test and service the PERS equipment as required. Within this context it is expected that the district and the PERS provider will work closely together to coordinate service delivery to ensure that the PERS client's health and safety needs are always met and that the client will have immediate access to medical help in an emergency.

1. Installation of PERS Equipment

The installation process begins when the social services district telephones the provider informing them of the PERS client's name, address and telephone number. The provider contacts the client or the client's representative on that same day and arranges a mutually convenient time for the PERS equipment installation into the client's telephone line. The client must have and maintain a private line telephone service in order for the PERS equipment to properly function. The provider must properly install the PERS equipment within five business days from the day it receives the district's written authorization. If the provider is unable to install the PERS equipment within this five day time frame, it must notify the district immediately. Installation of PERS equipment is completed upon performance of the following tasks by the provider:

- (a) When the PERS provider has agreed to perform the following responsibilities as the district's designee, the provider must ensure that the PERS recipient designates in writing the name, address and telephone number of the emergency response organization; one emergency responder or, if possible, two emergency responders; a representative, who may be the same person as an emergency responder; the client's physician; and the client's preferred hospital. As the district's designee, the PERS provider must ensure that the PERS recipient, or his or her representative, signs a written authorization for emergency response organization personnel and an emergency responder to enter the recipient's home and provide emergency treatment and transportation.
- (b) The provider has instructed the client in the use of the PERS equipment and has provided the client with simple, written PERS instructions that describe these procedures. The name and telephone number of the provider should appear on this instruction packet;
- (c) The provider has informed the client that if the PERS equipment malfunctions, the client should immediately notify the provider or the social services district;
- (d) The provider has informed and encouraged the client to call the monitoring agency to test his/her PERS equipment or when he/she has questions regarding any aspects of the PERS equipment or service.

Within five business days following the installation of PERS equipment, the PERS provider must send the district, by mail or facsimile machine, a written confirmation that the PERS equipment has been installed and that the client has been instructed in the use of the equipment. This confirmation must be signed by a representative of the provider and by the client or his/her representative. The client or the district may request, at any time, that the provider furnish, in the client's home, follow-up instruction on the use of PERS equipment.

2. Monitoring and Maintenance of Equipment

The PERS provider is responsible for maintaining installed PERS equipment in proper working order and monitoring the system to ensure that it is in proper working order at all times. This monitoring function should be automated so as to cause the least possible inconvenience to the client. All PERS equipment must be properly maintained and serviced by the PERS provider within 24 hours of notification of problems with the equipment. If the equipment cannot be repaired, it must be replaced by the provider within 24 hours. A PERS provider must also replace the equipment's batteries when necessary. All replacements and repairs to PERS equipment will be made and paid for by the provider. When a replacement or repair has been made to equipment, the provider must telephone the district within 24 hours to notify it of the problem and its resolution.

3. Responding to Emergency Signals

The most critical area of provider responsibility is to ensure that the monitoring agency performs the correct protocols when responding to an emergency signal. When the monitoring agency receives a signal from the client's PERS equipment, staff from the monitoring agency will retrieve the client's data record and complete the following tasks:

- (a) The monitoring agency staff immediately establishes either directly or through technology enhancements, immediate verbal or other contact with the PERS client and determines whether an emergency exists and the type of assistance needed.
- (b) If the client with voice-to-voice equipment is able to respond, monitoring agency staff asks the client if assistance is needed and provides an appropriate response to the situation (such as contacting the designated emergency responder(s), the police, fire department and/or an ambulance).
- (c) If the monitoring agency staff is unable to establish either directly or through technology enhancements, immediate verbal or other contact with a PERS client, the monitoring agency staff immediately notifies an emergency responder that the PERS client has signaled for help. For example, a client whose PERS equipment has voice-to-voice capability may not respond or his or her telephone may have a busy signal.
- (d) Once an emergency responder is contacted, that emergency responder determines what further action to take to provide the client with assistance, including summoning an emergency response organization.

- (e) If monitoring agency staff are unable to reach one of the emergency responders, the monitoring agency staff must notify the emergency response organization, (e.g. police, fire or ambulance).
- (f) Monitoring agency staff will maintain appropriate contact with the PERS client, the emergency responder or the emergency response organization and will monitor the entire provision of this emergency service to verify that services have been provided and the emergency has been resolved.

The provider must telephone the district on the first business day after an emergency occurs and inform the district of the nature of the emergency and how it was resolved. The provider must also send the district a written report within seven working days after the emergency.

It is the PERS provider's responsibility to assure that the monitoring agency's equipment has appropriate back-up power supply, a separate telephone service, and a back-up information retrieval system so that the monitoring agency will be able to respond to signals for help from a client's PERS equipment during power failures, mechanical malfunctions, or other technical emergencies.

4. Recordkeeping Requirements

The PERS provider has responsibility for maintaining the following records:

(a) Client Data Record

The provider must maintain a data record for each PERS client which is based on information that the district supplies. The provider must update this record every twelve months or whenever the district notifies the provider that changes must be made. An example of information in the file which may need updating may be a change in emergency responders or a change in the client's medical condition.

The initial information contained within the client's data record is recorded by the district and sent to the provider on the day of PERS authorization. The data record must at all times contain the following information:

- (i) The client's name, telephone number and address, including his/her apartment number and floor, where applicable;

- (ii) The client's personal medical history, including his/her age, sex, medical condition, primary diagnosis, and other relevant medical history;
- (iii) The name, telephone number, and address of the person or persons whom the PERS client has designated as the emergency responder or responders;
- (iv) The name, telephone number and address of the person whom the PERS client has designated as his or her representative, if different from the emergency responder;
- (v) The name, telephone number and address of the police department, fire department, ambulance service, hospital, or other entity that the PERS client has designated as an emergency response organization;
- (vi) The PERS client's written authorization for the emergency response organization and emergency responder to enter his or her home and provide emergency treatment and transportation; and,
- (vii) The name, telephone number, and address of the PERS client's physician and the client's preferred hospital.

(b) Monitoring Records

In addition to the data record, the provider will also maintain records of all 24 hour monitoring activities, all the signals sent by clients and the monitoring agency's response to these signals.

(c) Installation and Removal Records

Providers are also required to keep a record of the dates of installation and removal of PERS equipment, a record of the PERS provider's instructions to the PERS client regarding his or her use of the PERS equipment, and a record of all maintenance, repairs or replacements of the client's malfunctioning PERS equipment.

5. Removal of the Client's PERS Equipment

The PERS provider must not remove PERS equipment unless the district has notified the provider in writing that the equipment must be removed. The following procedures must be followed by the provider when removing equipment from a client's home:

- (a) On the day the social services district telephones the PERS provider and notifies it that PERS equipment must be removed, the provider must telephone the client or the client's representative to arrange a mutually convenient time for the equipment's removal.
- (b) The PERS provider must remove PERS equipment within seven business days after the day the provider receives the social services district's written notification that PERS equipment must be removed.
- (c) On the day the PERS equipment is removed, the PERS provider must notify the social services district by telephone of the equipment's removal.
- (d) Within five business days after the day the PERS equipment is removed, the PERS provider must forward to the social services district a written confirmation that the equipment has been removed. The confirmation must be signed by a representative of the provider and by the PERS client or his/her representative.

V. SYSTEMS IMPLICATIONS

Once the district's contract(s), and negotiated rates have been approved by the Department, the MMIS provider enrollment package will be sent to prospective PERS providers by the Department. Completion and return of the enrollment material will result in the assignment of a provider identification number used in service authorization and billing activities being issued to the PERS provider. Billing instructions will be sent to the PERS providers subsequent to the providers return of the enrollment package.

STANDARDS FOR PERS EQUIPMENT AND FOR MONITORING AGENCIES

1. All PERS equipment must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission and meet the underwriters Laboratories, Inc. (UL) safety standard number 1637, which is the UL standard for home health care signaling equipment. The UL listing mark on the equipment will be accepted as evidence of the equipment's compliance with such standard.
 - (a) A district is responsible for determining whether the PERS equipment for which it contracts complies with the UL safety standard 1637. The district may fulfill its responsibility for determining whether the PERS equipment meets such UL standard by:
 - (i) accepting the UL listing mark on the PERS equipment as evidence of the equipment's compliance with the UL standard; or
 - (ii) obtaining from the PERS provider a written statement that the PERS equipment:
 - (a) meets UL safety standard Number 1637; or
 - (b) has been tested by a laboratory certified by the United States Occupational Safety and Health Administration and determined by such laboratory to meet such UL standard.
2. The emergency response activator must be able to be activated by breath, by touch or some other means and must be usable by persons who are visually or hearing impaired or physically disabled.
3. The emergency response communicator must be attached to the PERS client's telephone line and must not interfere with normal telephone use. The communicator must be capable of operating without external power during a power failure at the client's home in accordance with UL requirements for home health care signaling equipment with stand-by capability.
4. The monitoring agency must be capable of simultaneously responding to multiple signals for help from the client's PERS equipment. The monitoring agency's equipment must include a primary receiver, a stand-by information retrieval system and a separate telephone service, a stand-by receiver, a back-up power supply, and a telephone line monitor. The primary receiver and back-up receiver must be independent and interchangeable. The clock printer must print out the time and date of the emergency signal, the PERS client's identification code, and the emergency code that indicates whether the signal is active, passive, or a responder test. The telephone line monitor must give visual and audible signals when an incoming telephone line is disconnected for more than 10 seconds. The monitoring agency must maintain detailed technical and operations manuals that describe PERS elements, including PERS equipment installation, functioning, and testing; emergency response protocols; and recordkeeping and reporting procedures.

5. The PERS provider will assure that monitoring agency staff will be trained on operational and technical aspects of the PERS system. This training shall include testing procedures, emergency reporting and response procedures and servicing.

The Social Services District or the Department may, in its discretion and upon written notice to the Provider, terminate the Provider's responsibility to provide PERS to any one or more MA clients. Such termination of the Provider's responsibility to provide PERS to any one or more MA clients does not render this Agreement void or voidable.

Such insurance coverage may be an endorsement to an existing policy of the Provider. The Provider agrees to maintain such coverage while this Agreement is in effect. The Provider also agrees that, regardless of the form or manner of the Provider's insurance coverage and prior to providing PERS under this Agreement, the Provider will request its insurer to provide the Social Services District with a written acknowledgment of the Provider's insurance coverage, the terms of the Provider's insurance coverage, and a commitment that the insurer or the Provider will notify the Social Services District at least ten calendar days before the effective date of any change in, or cancellation of, the Provider's insurance coverage.

All amendments must be in writing, signed by authorized representatives of the Social Services District and the Provider, and attached to this Agreement.

Part 505.33 Personal emergency response services (PERS).

(a) Definitions.

- (1) Personal emergency response services mean:
 - (i) the provision and maintenance of electronic communication equipment in the home of an individual which signals a monitoring agency for help when activated by the individual, or after a period of time if a timer mechanism has not been reset; and
 - (ii) the continuous monitoring of such signals by a trained operator and, in case of receipt of such signals, the immediate notification of such emergency response organizations or persons, if necessary, as the individual has previously specified.
- (2) Electronic communication equipment (PERS equipment) means equipment that electronically signals a monitoring agency for help via telephone lines. PERS equipment includes the following:
 - (i) an emergency response activator, which is a small electronic device that the PERS recipient presses or otherwise activates to send a signal for help to the monitoring agency; and
 - (ii) an emergency response communicator, which is an electronic unit connected to a PERS recipient's telephone line. The emergency response communicator accepts a signal for help from the emergency response activator and also has its own device to generate a signal for help. It sends the signal via telephone lines to the monitoring agency.
- (3) Monitoring agency means an agency that is capable of receiving signals for help from a recipient's PERS equipment 24 hours per day, seven days per week; determining whether an emergency exists; and notifying an emergency response organization or an emergency responder that the PERS recipient needs emergency help.
- (4) Emergency response organization means a police department, a fire department, an ambulance service, a hospital, or other entity that the PERS recipient has designated to respond to specific signals for help when notified by the monitoring agency or an emergency responder.
- (5) Emergency responder means a PERS recipient's neighbor, family member, or other person who has agreed, at the recipient's request, to respond to specific signals for help when notified by the monitoring agency.

- (6) PERS provider means a certified home health agency, a long term home health care program, an area agency on aging, a police department, a fire department, an ambulance service, a hospital, or any other entity that is capable of providing PERS either directly or through subcontracts. A PERS provider may also be a monitoring agency.
- (b) Social services districts' PERS plans.(1) Each social services district must submit a PERS plan to the department on a form the department requires and must not authorize PERS until the department has approved the district's PERS plan. Each social services district must submit any changes to its approved PERS plan to the department on a form the department requires. The district may include such changes to its approved PERS plan as part of the district's annual plan for the provision of personal care services, as required by section 505.14(j) of this Part.
- (2) A social services district's PERS plan must be in a form acceptable to the department and must include descriptions of the following:
- (i) the process the social services district will use to authorize PERS;
 - (ii) the PERS equipment that the social services district will require to be used, including whether the equipment will have a voice-to-voice capability;
 - (iii) the process by which the social services district will select the PERS providers with which it will contract;
 - (iv) the coordination among the social services district, the PERS providers with which it will contract, and any entities with which the PERS providers will subcontract; and
 - (v) the projected cost savings that PERS will achieve.
- (3) The department will notify a social services district of its approval or disapproval of the district's PERS plan within 45 business days after it receives the plan. If the department disapproves a social services district's PERS plan, the district must submit a revised plan to the department within 30 business days after the day the district receives the department's disapproval notice.
- (c) PERS assessments, authorizations, and reauthorizations.
- (1) As part of its assessment for an authorization of personal care services or home health services, a social services district may also assess whether PERS would be appropriate for a person.

- (2) An initial authorization for PERS must be based on a physician's order and a comprehensive assessment of the person.
- (i) The comprehensive assessment must be performed by social services district staff, or by staff of the district's designee, on forms that the department approves to be used.
 - (ii) The comprehensive assessment must evaluate the following factors: the person's physical disability status, the degree to which the person is at risk of an emergency due to a medical or functional impairment or disability, and the degree of the person's social isolation.
 - (iii) A social services district may authorize PERS only when the comprehensive assessment indicates that PERS would be appropriate for the person because:
 - (a) the person has a medical condition, disability, or impairment that warrants use of PERS;
 - (b) PERS would reduce or eliminate the number of hours of personal care services or home health services that the person would need;
 - (c) the person's safety in the home must be monitored;
 - (d) the person has insufficient informal caretakers, such as family members and friends, directly and continuously available to monitor his or her health and safety;
 - (e) the person is alert and self-directing, which means that he or she is capable of making choices about activities of daily living, understanding the impact of the choices, and assuming responsibility for the results of the choices;
 - (f) the person can communicate in basic English or, if the person is unable to communicate in basic English, the person's emergency responder or responders can communicate in basic English;
 - (g) the person would be able to use the PERS equipment effectively; and

STEPS FOR PROVIDER SELECTION AND CONTRACTING PROCESS
FOR PERSONAL EMERGENCY RESPONSE SERVICES

1. The PERS provider(s) meets with the Commissioner of the Social Services District (SSD) or his/her representative regarding the intent to become a PERS provider. Some districts have a RFP process. The PERS provider will follow the district's process in contracting for services. The PERS provider then receives and reviews regulations and administrative directives provided by the district.
2. The Commissioner requests the potential PERS provider(s) to physically demonstrate their PERS product(s). This demonstration should include an activation of the emergency signal with the monitoring agency responding to this signal.
3. The SSD selects a PERS provider(s) as the result of these demonstrations.
4. The SSD and the provider negotiate rate and local contract variations. Rates and local variations are established by SSD.
5. The SSD submits local contract variations and rate information to NYSDSS along with copies of the signed and dated NYSDSS model contract. NYSDSS reviews and approves rate(s) and local contract variations.
6. The NYSDSS notifies the SSD of the approval of its rate(s) and contract(s).
7. The NYSDSS notifies MMIS of approval to use the PERS provider.
8. The MMIS assigns Provider Identification number following completion of enrollment forms by provider agency.
9. The PERS rates are entered into the system after approval by NYSDSS.
10. The SSD prior approves services according to established client specific procedures and assigns authorization to provider agency as needed.
11. After rendering services, the PERS provider bills MMIS for services. Payment is made to PERS provider.
